

As a resident of Indiana it has been our experience with the success of the laws enacted in this state to prevent unwanted telemarketing calls to completely address our situation. I would receive an average of 8-10 calls a day which proved most annoying. Now I receive none. I truly don't want to go back to dealing with the annoyance of receiving any calls from telemarketers. Thank you for hearing our voices.....